Never mind. The email with the DRMS maps from Liz was just forwarded to me. It looks like everything matches up between our coordinates and what is on their map. The SAP is just about complete. I will finish assembling it today and send it over first thing Monday morning.

Thanks,

Leslie

Hi Dan,

I was just working on the Animas SAP and had a question about the A07B location that was highlighted on the most recent table. I was wondering where DRMS has the location. Ryan checked through all our records and everything we have matches what is on the table currently. Do we want to use the DRMS location and if so do you have those coordinates?

Thanks!

Leslie Christner
